DEFENDANTS PAY OVER $15,000 TO THE HOLLOWELLS

End of Famous Case Comes Today With Appearance of Attorney Headley.

Citizens of Caldwell Contribute $2,000 of Total.

WITNESSES CHARGE NOTHING

Compromise terms in the Hollowell case as published exclusively in The Sun Tuesday, were formally ratified today, and the famous case has become history. The 28 defendants today gave a certificate of deposit for $15,000 to Miller & Miller who, as counsel for the plaintiff, have negotiated the compromise. Each side will pay its own costs.

Ward Headley, of the counsel for the defendants arrived in the city last night from Princeton with the certificate of deposit in his pocket, and the case could have been closed then or this morning, but for his desire to have an express authorization from the Hollowells, now in Evansville, directing Miller & Miller to accept the terms of compromise. The Hollowells agreed to the settlement and Miller made but Headley wanted a formal declaration to that effect from them. Pending the arrival of the telegram, Mr. Headley carried the valuable certificate around in his coat pocket all morning, as well as last night.

As told in The Sun Tuesday, the $15,000 was deposited in a bank at Princeton to the credit of Miller & Miller. Some further dickerings were necessary before the case could be finally closed today. When this was cleared up, Mr. Headley came down to Paducah and turned over the money with an air of resignation to fate. He said he was as friendly convinced now as during the trial, that his clients were innocent of the charges made but that they thought the compromise was the quickest and easiest way out of the trouble.

According to Mr. Headley, $2,000 of the money was a subscription donation to the defendants from prominent Princeton and Caldwell county citizens. This left only $13,000 to be raised by the defendants from the court costs and counsel fees. The money was borrowed largely and part was raised by mortgages on the property of these defendants who lend any wealth. The net result to each defendant will be something over $500.

Witnesses Volunteer.
Sympathy was shown the defendants in the action of the large number of witnesses they brought to the trial, who with few exceptions agreed to forego their witness fees. They paid their own expenses and will not demand per diem pay for witnesses. Several hundred dollars are involved in this action, as the two trials required the witnesses to spend two days or more in the city each time, with hotel bills and railroad fare to pay. Some of the witnesses have asked Mr. Headley if they would be paid for appearing in the trials, and other curious items gained currency among them.

Asked if the defendants had considered an appeal, Mr. Headley said that rather than pay the whole judgment they would have appealed the case. He said that Miller & Miller had demanded $20,000 in settlement of the judgment but this amount was reduced down to the figure mentioned. Settlement in Princeton and Caldwell county is wholly with the defendants, according to Mr. Headley, and he cited the gift of $2,000 as evidence.

WOMEN AFTER HOPKINS

Salt Lake, May 28.—The Woman's club have issued an appeal to Illinois women to defeat Hopkins for reelection, because he defied Senator Simons.

Her Purse Stolen.
Mrs. Belle Curd reported to the police this afternoon that some one had stolen her pocketbook while she was shopping this afternoon. It is thought she placed the purse on a counter the thief picked it up and escaped. In the purse was $10 in change.

England, Russia and France Might Form Triple Alliance if Reports From London Are to be Relied on Visit of President Fallieres to King Edward and Contemplated Visit of Latter to Czar.

London, May 28.—The visit of President Fallieres to King Edward and the fact that the latter is going to visit the czar caused a report that a triple alliance between England, France and Russia is contemplated. Fallieres' purpose is said to be to urge an alliance on Edward. Members of the ruling Liberal party encourage the view that the alliance is coming.

HARVESTER SUITS

Chicago, May 28.—The International Harvester company is making its last fight for existence in Kansas, when called into court to show it is not "restraining trade." The company is trying to show that the prices of implements is lower than before the combination and that it has abandoned contracts, prohibiting agents handling other goods. It threatens voluntarily to remove from Kansas unless the suits are dropped.

HORSE STOLEN

Locking the stable before the horse is stolen, seems to be as fruitless as the proverbial method of locking it afterward, as stable thieves are defying any precautions. Mrs. John Sullivan, Ninth and Adams streets, had a fine set of harness stolen last night, as did Mr. J. J. Billings, 1140 Monroe street. The police are making extra efforts to stop this kind of thievery.

W. B. Mills, 2900 Jefferson street, reported to the police that his horse is missing, though he does not know whether it was stolen or strayed away.

FIRE CHIEF WOOD AND HIS MEN GOOD CARPENTERS.

Fire Chief Wood is trying to improve the appearance of the Central fire station and the firemen have patched up the floor in several places. In the office an entirely new floor is being placed in. The job is a neat one, as the firemen are good carpenters. With some paint used around the station it will look cleaner and neater.

PADUCAH PICTURE AGENT IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING NINE YEAR OLD GIRL

Illinois Officers on Trail of E. D. Brown, Who is Believed to Have Crossed Mississippi.

Calto, Ill., May 28.—(Special.)—Camp officers are on the trail of E. D. Brown, district manager of the Chicago Art company, with headquarters at Paducah, who is charged with assaulting the 9-year-old daughter of Mrs. C. Webb at Mounds, Ill., yesterday. Last evening Brown telephoned for his agent to meet him at Sandusky, 16 miles from here on the Mobile & Ohio, with a buggy, and they drove away in the direction of Thebes. The agent returned last night and was arrested at Mounds on the charge of aiding a fugitive from justice to escape. It is believed that Brown went over into Missouri, probably to Cape Girardeau.

The story that comes from Mounds is that Mrs. Welch keeps a boarding house and that Brown was stopping there. She had occasion to leave the house yesterday morning to buy provisions. It was early in the morning before Brown or the girl were up. While she was away the former got up and went to the room of the child and assaulted her, and when Mrs. Welch returned he had packed up all his belongings and gone. The child told her mother what had happened, as best she could. Mrs. Welch telephoned her husband, who is employed in Cairo and he hurried home.

Brown is Known Here.
While in the city E. D. Brown stayed at the New Richmond hotel, and he made frequent trips to the city. Last Friday he left for Cairo with his salesmen for a trip through the small towns. He registered at the hotel from Cairo, and besides appearing to be a nice young man, the hotel attaches know nothing of him. Brown is a small man and usually wears a brown suit of clothes.

PARDONED.

Frankfort, Ky., May 28.—(Special.)—Governor Wilson pardoned Mary Hollowell, of Caldwell county, indicted for scraping plant beds of John E. Hollowell. The governor said the indictment was not procured to stop night riding, but was in pursuance of a campaign of lawlessness and plant bed scraping. Mrs. Hollowell is plaintiff in the federal damage suits and John E. Hollowell is one of the defendants. The woman was indicted, she said, in order to prevent her returning to Kentucky to see the people who assaulted her and her husband.

FRIDAY NIGHT IS EXPECTED TO SEE END OF CONGRESS

Washington, May 28.—The senate is considering the amended currency bill. It is expected to pass. House Democrats decided not to filibuster against it and it passed the house. Congress is expected to adjourn Friday night.

On Paper Pulp.

Washington, May 28.—Republican and Democratic members of the house committee which investigated the price of print paper submitted opposing reports. The Republicans urge the postponement of the Stevens bill to remove the duties on wood pulp until next session. They say the price of paper will not be reduced by removing the duty and it might ruin the paper industry. They found no combination of paper manufacturers. Democrats urge the removal of duties. The duty income is so small that the benefits to be derived justify this.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Lexington, Ky., May 28.—(Special.)—W. C. Smith, 35 years old, former president of the National Exchange bank, committed suicide this morning at his home near this city by shooting himself. He was despondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter England, 524 South Fourth street, are the parents of a 12-pound boy, born this morning.

SNELL CASE

Clinton, Ill., May 28.—The Snell will test case is likely to go to the jury this afternoon. The contestants rested after introducing Mabelle Snell's letter, much of which was unprintable.

"BILLY BECK" WILL MAKE TRIAL AT MEMPHIS MEET.

"Billy Beck," the trotter of Mr. Gus Thompson's string, has been sent to Memphis, where he is entered in some of the best stake races of the meet. With a moderate amount of fair play, Billy Beck should have success and bring his owner some of the spoils. If he shows good form, it is probable that he will be put to Boston and entered in the novelty trot.

COMPANY WILL BE MUSTERED IN THE CITY COURT ROOM

Dr. Victor Voris this morning received a letter from Capt. A. C. Chapman, adjutant of the Third regiment, Kentucky State Guard, saying he will be here Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock to muster in the new company of militia. The company will assemble in the city court room at that hour. Officers will be elected that night, also.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 28.—Democrats are holding their state convention. They will send four delegates-at-large to the Denver convention instructed for Bryan.

JUVENILE COURT NECESSARY SAYS JUDGE LIGHTFOOT

State Reformatory Only Makes Boys Worse and County Has No Remedy.

How He Tries to Show Boys Result of Evil Course.

A TYPICAL CASE PRESENTED

Juvenile day was held this morning by County Judge Lightfoot, and the case reiterated the need in McCracken county of facilities for handling incorrigible boys. Oscar Roberts, 7 years old, sat in his mother's lap while Judge Lightfoot attempted to extract a statement from him as to why he steals, lies and does other criminal things. Lizzie Roberts, the child's mother, who lives near Twelfth and Burnett streets in "Tin Can" alley, was taken before Judge Lightfoot on the charge of brutally whipping the boy, but Judge Lightfoot had issued this warrant principally to get the mother into court. She had whipped the boy because he had worried the whole neighborhood by his vicious pranks, until Judge Lightfoot ordered Detective Will Linker to bring him to court. Whimpering he told how he was lead into wrong doing by his older companions, some of whom have been before Judge Lightfoot, but it was evident that Oscar must have been a good follower if not a leader in any delinquent suggestion.

Judge Lightfoot did the only thing he could under the circumstances and ordered the boy sent to the county sanitarium on the Lone Oak road, to be kept until he shows improvement in character. He said it would be criminal to send so young a child to the state reformatory, where he would be thrown with older boys with confirmed bad habits. The case shows, Judge Lightfoot said, the crying need of a school or institution in this county, where such boys could be sent to be under the care of a person who had his heart in the work and who would teach them right principles before it is too late.

Bert Roberts, who has been in the reform school several times, is a brother of the child in court this morning. They seem to have had poor home training, and have given the authorities no end of trouble. Oscar is not old enough to know the difference between right and wrong, and Judge Lightfoot gave him an impressive talk about his life at the county poor farm, telling him of the penalty of running away.

Another Case.

Willie McRay, a companion of Oscar's, was before Judge Lightfoot yesterday, and it is thought he was strongly impressed by the sights he saw. Judge Lightfoot took him over to the county jail and through all the cells, having him see the criminals there and lecturing him on the sure end of a bad life. He was introduced to Jailer J. W. Baker and told the county officials that he would reform. "I do everything in my power to help these boys," Judge Lightfoot said this morning, "but without any place to send them, my efforts necessarily are limited in effect. We are allowing boys to grow up into criminals, to handle whom will cost the state a large sum later on, and they could be saved to useful lives by the proper effort. If the good people of the county could see one or two of these 'trials' they would not be indifferent about this urgent need."

Gen. Stephen D. Lee, Commander of United Confederate Veterans, Last Confederate General, Dead

Brief Illness of Indigestion Ends Career of Notable Man and Brave Southern Leader—His Life.

Vicksburg, Miss., May 28.—Gen. Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and last surviving general of the Confederacy, died here this morning. General Lee had been ill with indigestion several days. He gradually grew weaker and physicians were unable to effect a rally.

General Stephen Dill Lee was born at Charleston, S. C. September 22, 1833, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee. He received the degree of LL.D. at Tulane University, Louisiana, and was graduated from West Point in the class of 1854. He entered the artillery service and had reached the rank of captain when the Civil war broke out and he resigned from the United States service to accept a commission in the Confederate army. He rose through the ranks of captain, major, lieutenant colonel, colonel, brigadier and major general to lieutenant general. He participated in the campaign around Richmond in 1862, second Bull Run, Sharpsburg and Vicksburg, and commanded the Confederate troops at Chickasaw Bayou, Tupelo, Atlanta, Franklin and Nashville.

After the war he became a planter in Mississippi and was married in 1865 to Miss Regina Lillie Harrison, of Columbus, Miss. He was state senator, and member of the constitutional convention of Mississippi. He was chairman of the historical association of the United Confederate Veterans, president of the Mississippi Historical society, and from 1880 to 1889 he was president of the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical college. He resigned in 1899 and became a member of the Vicksburg National Park commission, which post he held at his death. He was elected commander of the United Confederate Veterans in 1904.

General Clement Evans, of Atlanta, is now commander.

Worst Mining Horror in China.

Victoria, B. C., May 28.—News of two disasters in China, involving the loss of 2,000 lives, was brought by the steamer Shinone. A typhoon and a flood in Hankow killed 1,000. Another thousand perished in a fire in a coal mine in Kwangsi. Few details of the latter catastrophe are known, although it is one of the worst in history.

GROCER IS FINED FOR NOT CLOSING STORE ON SUNDAY

For the violation of the Sabbath by selling groceries, J. B. McGuire, a grocer at Thirtieth and Clay streets, was fined $5 and costs in police court this morning. It is the first fine imposed since the Retail Grocers' association determined to keep closed on Sunday and obey the city ordinance.

Sunday morning Louie Englett and William Tuddy started out on a purchasing trip, and it is said found several stores open for the sale of goods. The warrant was sworn out against McGuire, and in police court he pleaded guilty and paid the fine, $5 and costs. A close watch will be kept, and further violations will be penalized by running away.

Yesterday afternoon the officers of the association were conferring with attorneys, and their plans for keeping the stores closed on Sunday will be followed closely.

JOE PURCHASE OUT

Mr. Joseph Purchase, deputy county jailer, has withdrawn from the Democratic primary for the position of city jailer. Mr. Purchase was deputy city jailer for several years, and he was regarded as a formidable opponent, but today he decided he would keep out of the race this term. This leaves Police Lieutenant Thomas Potter, Patrolman James W. Clark and possibly Frank Smedley as candidates for the office.

CARMEN STRIKE ON MO. PAC. AND IRON MOUNTAIN

St. Louis, May 28.—Twelve hundred carmen on the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain railroads struck today. They claim the company violated a contract by changing from hourly basis to piece work. Reports to the union headquarters show that men walked out in every section. The railroads today ordered the time for men working to be increased from four to eight hours a day. Strikers say this is an attempt to defeat the strike, but profess their ability to force the railroads to time.

CONTESTS FOR SEATS

Chicago, May 28.—Seats of one fifth of the delegates to the Republican national convention are to be contested. The time of waiting notices of contests expires at midnight. Secretary Dover has 171 and expects 200. The national committee will meet June 5 to hear contests.

SHOWERS OF RICE FOR NEWLYWEDS ABOARD SALTILLO

In a shower of rice and with their baggage appropriately decorated, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Coyle, of Chicago, went to the Union station this morning after the news of their elopement had leaked out in a party of friends on the steamer City of Saltillo. About 50 people from Chicago were at the wharf this morning on the steamer from Riverport, Ala., but before starting from Chicago to St. Louis on the trip Miss Lucy Valera, a pretty brunette, and Mr. Gene Coyle were married at St. James' church last Thursday, without telling their friends. On their return the secret leaked out, and before Paducah was reached the couple was given an impromptu rice shower. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Coyle left the party here and went to Louisville by train, and after their honeymoon they will be at home in Chicago. Members of the party accompanied them to the train, and rice was thrown constantly, and snap shots were taken. Mr. Coyle is president of the Coyle Milk company, of Chicago.

WARRANT FOR LOWE

A warrant was sworn out this morning by Padillo Kirk, detective for the Illinois Central railroad, charging Charles Lowe, colored, with robbing the unknown passenger of his watch and roll of $35. The name of the loser has not been learned by the police, but the conductor and bagman and porter have been telegraphed to be here for the trial. It is thought that the trial will be held Saturday morning. The conductor said that Lowe jumped off the train near the Union station, while Lowe flagged the freight train several miles from the city yesterday morning and rode to Union station, where Padillo Kirk and Patrolman Casper Jones arrested him. It is believed that Lowe walked back several miles from the place he jumped off the train. The money or the watch have not been found.

MUST GET LICENSE

Many owners of new automobiles have forgotten that a license must be secured from the city for the operation of the machines, and Robert Hicks, city license inspector, has given the owners warning that unless a number is secured a warrant will be issued. The number of a machine costs $1. Many paint and building contractors have failed to renew their city license and License Inspector H. B. Hicks is preparing to issue warrants for the delinquents June 1.

TWO BRANCHES OF PRESBYTERIANS DISCUSS SCHOOL

Kentucky Synod Not Upheld in Action in Regard to Central University.

General Assembly at Kansas City Considers Policy.

RETAIN CONTROL OF SCHOOLS

Kansas City, May 28.—An attempt to secure an endorsement of the standard American revised edition of the Bible as the best version before the American public and commending its widest usage among Presbyterians was defeated by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church. A resolution was introduced providing that a committee consisting of four ministers and four elders be appointed, to make a report at the next general assembly on the entire subject of "general assembly" in an effort to make the general assembly a more deliberative body. The resolution was referred to the committee on policy.

Dr. William Roberts, stated clerk of the general assembly, said that the general assembly costs each communicant of the church only seven cents a year. He said that the assembly had twice gone to the Pacific coast, but was free from debt and he commended the administration of the officers.

Dr. Stanley White said that the foreign mission board of the church never before faced such a crisis as now. This was because of governmental unrest in some of the eastern countries. America must have a share in the development of the orient he said. It was a disgrace, he said, that after an edict to stamp out the opium curse had been issued in China, that a spurious cure for the habit had been introduced from the west, which contained morphine and largely neutralized the effect of the edict.

Sabbath School Work.
The report of the board of publication and Sabbath school work stated that work previously begun had been carried on with no abatement of vigor, while the sphere of service had it been enlarged by entering upon new fields of usefulness. Among these the most promising are the opportunities for Sabbath school missions opened by the Union with the Cumberland church and the far-reaching realm of influence afforded by the new work for the young people, which the general assembly instructed the board to undertake.

"The development of old work and the taking up of new work has necessarily increased the missionary expenditures, the total amount being $187,704. The year began with a debt of $5,607, but closed with a credit balance of $2,450. Contributions amounting to $160,971 were received, an increase of $24,276, nearly eighteen percent over last year. This was the largest amount of contributions and the largest increase of any year in the history of the board.

"The board has at work 137 Sabbath school missionaries and 29 colporters laboring within the bounds of 35 synods and 129 Presbyteries. There were 738 new Sabbath schools organized and 279 revived, making a total of 1,017, into which were gathered 3,366 officers and teachers and 32,967 scholars. The missionaries have encouraged and otherwise aided 2,691 Sabbath schools which are under their care, these schools have a membership of 112,836."

SECRET BURIAL

BETRAYS POSSIBILITY OF ANOTHER NIGHT RIDER DEATH.

Mourner Said Man Accidentally Shot Himself. But Evade Questions.

Frankfort, Ky., May 28.—That more than one man was killed in the difficulty which resulted in the death of New Hazlett in Shelby county last Thursday night is the belief of men who live in that section of Shelby. Jack Estes, who lives near the Franklin, Owen and Henry county lines, says he saw a man buried last Friday, the day following the trouble in Shelby county. Estes' story was about as follows:

"I saw a party of men come from Owen county with a dead man, who was the brother of one of the men accompanying the corpse. They would not talk about how the dead man came to his death, but when pressed for information said that the man had shot himself accidentally. The whole top of the man's head had been shot away. He was buried in a country graveyard near the place where I live."

Estes would not tell the name of the man killed, but his story left the impression that the man had been killed during a raid by the night riders, either by the night riders or by some one who was on the other side of the question. The neighbors of the dead man, Estes is quoted as saying, believe that the dead man met death at the same time as Hazlett, in some manner as yet unexplained. The secret burial and the nature of the wound indicate that there is some mystery about the killing and it is thought here that perhaps more than one man was killed at the time Hazlett met his death.

BENTON CITIZENS SHOT AT FLEEING JAKE OWENS.

Jake Owens, colored, was arrested this morning near Sixth and Campbell streets, on a charge of robbery by Patrolmen Moore and Hurley. It is alleged that Owens broke into several stores in Benton Sunday night and stole articles. He was discovered and as Owens escaped the citizens took many shots at him. Owens when caught did not deny his guilt, and told the patrolmen: "Don't bullets come so fast dat I couldn't count 'em." Detective T. J. Moore took Owens back to Benton this morning.

MAYFIELD.

Quite a surprise was sprung on the members of the Baptist church at prayer meeting services, when Mr. Frank Brooks, one of the officers of the church, arose and read a communication from the pastor, Rev. A. S. Pettie, in which he offered his resignation as pastor of this church, to take effect October 1, 1908. On motion and second the action of the church was deferred until next Tuesday night on the acceptance or rejection of the pastor. In his letter of rejection the pastor said in all, he had labored about fourteen years for this church, and that he believed it would be better for all concerned to have a change in pastors. It was not stated where he would likely go from here, but rumor has it that he may go to Winchester, Ky.

Storm at Goldwater.

A young cyclone visited Goldwater, in Callaway county near Farmington, Monday afternoon doing considerable damage to property. There were no lives lost but several had miraculous escapes and had to flee from the falling timber. The store house of Nix & company was thrown from its foundation to a distance of about eight feet and the house badly wrecked. The residence of Lawrence McKel, a merchant, was also blown and tossed about while other buildings were shaken up. Trees fell in large numbers all over the country and nearly all roads could be seen filled up with fallen timber. Forces also suffered from the wind's fury.

ONLY SIX HOURS WARNING GIVEN

Before Mrs. Mary Grouse Was Called Into Eternity.

Sudden Death of Estimable Woman Causes Profound Sorrow Among Her Friends.

WILLIE V. COCHRAN DIES

Six hours only intervened between a stroke of apoplexy at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the death of Mrs. Mary Fisher Grouse, 244 North Sixth street, at 9:10 o'clock last night. Her sudden illness and death shocked the city, as she was in perfect health until the fatal stroke came without warning at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Fisher Grouse, wife of A. H. Grouse, of the dry goods firm of Pels & Hubel, was a daughter of George and Davidella Fisher and was born March 5, 1868. Her life had been spent in Paducah, her parents dying when she was a child, and leaving her to be reared by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Fisher. Mr. Fisher, her grandfather, was one time mayor of Paducah and was prominent in its business life.

On June 14, 1887, Mrs. Grouse was married to Mr. A. H. Grouse, in this city. One child, which died in infancy, blessed this union. Besides her husband, she leaves an uncle, Postmaster E. M. Fisher, and two sons, Mrs. W. P. Paxton and Mrs. Lula Fisher. She was a niece of the late John Fisher and J. Will Fisher. Mrs. Grouse was a lifelong member of the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church, which she joined in early girlhood and the interests of which she always took an active part in promoting. In disposition she was attractive to a wide circle of acquaintances and friends, while her home life was ideal. The news of her death, coming before the report of her illness had gotten out of the neighborhood, caused general sorrow.

At noon yesterday Mrs. Grouse began to feel ill and at 2:30 o'clock her husband and physicians were summoned. By 3 o'clock the stroke of apoplexy carried her into insensibility and she only lived until 9:10 o'clock last night. She was the last member of her immediate family, her only brother having died a year ago. The funeral of Mrs. Mary Fisher Grouse will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at St. Francis de Sales church. Father Jansen will deliver the funeral services. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery. The pallbearers are: Ed Hanman, Pat Lally, John Dorian, James Paxton, Edwin Paxton, Percy Paxton, Harry Fisher and Charles Fisher.

Willie V. Cochran, the 17-month-old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cochran, 200 Hayes avenue, Mechanicsburg, died yesterday afternoon at the residence. The burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

Harvey Parks' Funeral. The body of Harvey Parks, who was drowned Tuesday in Island creek, was taken over the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway this morning to Kiva for burial in the family's former home this afternoon.

Notice to Contractors. Bids will be received by the Board of Public Works, at their office at the city hall, on Tuesday, June 2, 1908, at 2 o'clock, for the reconstruction of Broadway and Jefferson streets from Ninth to Eleventh streets, with bluestone, asphalt or vitrified brick material, as per plans and specifications in the office of the City Engineer, under authority authorizing same, BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS. By L. F. KOHL, Secretary. L. A. WASHINGTON, City Engineer.

"THE HANDICAP"

SENIORS' PLAY IS READY NOW FOR PRESENTATION.

Class Will Go on Inspection Trip With Professor Shreve—Notes From Schools.

"The Handicap," the two-act play for the senior class on class night, is ready for presentation, but regular rehearsals will be held until Wednesday night so there will be no chance for a mistake. The rehearsals were begun early this year, and the class night promises to be the most successful yet. In addition to a light, lively play, there will be specialties introduced. Miss Anna Bird Stewart has had charge of all the rehearsals of the play, and Miss Adah L. Hrazelton has had supervision of the music and specialties. Miss Ethel Sights will sing "My Honey Boy" and Miss Bess Lane and Gus Elliott will sing a duet. Edwin Handle has a clever song, "In P. H. S." and Will Rock has a con song and a dance. Miss Helen Hills will sing "A Rose." Each member of the class except Misses Sadie Smith and Margaret Schwab, who are honor students, will have some special act.

Seniors to Inspect.

Tomorrow morning the senior class will go on an inspection trip to several plants in the city. Prof. C. H. Shreve, of the science department, will accompany them, and explain how principles of physics are applied. The X-Ray of Dr. J. W. Pendley will be examined, and its operation shown. The power house of the Paducah Traction company will be visited, and the electrical machinery inspected, and last the class will visit the ice plant to see how water is frozen into ice in midsummer. As this is the last day of school the entire morning will be devoted to the trip.

School Notes.

Mr. Richard L. Scott sang at the opening exercises of the High school this morning. Mr. Scott sang "Sing Me to Sleep" and "A Winter Lullaby" but was forced to respond to several encores. Tomorrow morning Miss Aline Hagby will play on the violin at the opening exercises.

All of the High school students are requested to be at the parish home of the Grace Episcopal church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The baccalaureate sermon will begin at 7:15 o'clock and the entire school with the faculty will attend the sermon in a body. The white carnation has been selected as the flower of the High school and each student will wear one.

Miss Belle Ford, teacher of the second grade of the Washington building, was ill today and Miss Clare Winston, of the Cadet class, was in charge of her room.

Daily Thought.

"Locking the heart against the drafts of sympathy is the swiftest way of impoverishing the whole life."

Floods and cyclones, mutterings of thunder and gleams of lightning accompanied the Democratic struggle in Texas when Senator Bailey again triumphed over his foes.

It is unfortunate that men like Joel Fort, who profess to be actuated only by regard for the farmers' organizations, devote their time to denunciation of law and order leagues, organized by honest citizens of tobacco centers to protect themselves against arson and murder, but never have a word of condemnation for the night riders.

No more than a week ago The Sun commented editorially on England's surrender of the opium traffic with China for the benefit of India's export trade, saying that white men may acquire the habit from the orientals. Now, we hear that society women of San Francisco have taken up opium smoking to such an extent as to alarm the local authorities. Commercialized vice can not be confined.

Paducah's new military company is starting under favorable conditions. All are volunteers and no names were solicited. The personnel of the company is excellent. A company located here will be in a strategic position and the boys no doubt will see most of the active service in this section. For that reason they should be faithful in the discharge of their obligations to the organization. They are performing a citizen's duty in serving in the national guard. Citizens will take pride in a crack company, and will encourage the honest efforts of the guardsmen.

THE CHURCH COLLEGE.

It is worthy of more than passing notice that the general assemblies of both branches of the Presbyterian church are brought face to face this year with the problem of education, and that they both take the same decided stand against permitting their seats of learning to be tempted from under church control and moral influences by the offer of large endowments of money. No greater menace confronts our country than the possible decadence of the small sectarian college.

Modernism demands freedom of thought, as it is called—worldly, Godless speculation. In reality, prison bound by the limits of human experience and demonstration. Glitter of gold, perhaps, attracts some college professors, as it does others, and they have lent weight to the cry against the restrictions of the "fresh water" colleges.

Leaving out all questions that disturb the church organizations, great universities are necessary and freedom of thought and research are very desirable, and when the youth has finished his "college" course, and seeks higher learning, only the university, heavily endowed, can afford him the opportunities he seeks. But the attempt to substitute a regular college course as an adjunct to the seats of higher education, for the "college town" influences will prove detrimental to the individual and the community.

Taking a youth away from home influences between the ages of 17 and 25 and placing him in a great school, that has no association for him except in the class rooms, is dangerous; to permit him to imbibe learning in a manner that would tend to make him a cold, calculating thinking machine, without those other graces of mind and heart that ennoble the being, is disastrous.

Culture is the chief end of a college education. A student absorbs more than he acquires by direct application, always. In the "college town," under the influence of good men, thinkers and scholars who work with no eye to comparative cash results; his social life made to harmonize in hours and character with the elevating environments of the school, associating in his development with other youths in like circumstances, the student comes out a typical college product, impregnated with ideals, some of which are bound to cling to him through life. A youth immersed for four years in a college town, is a different being from the one, who slips from the "Klondike springs" of the great universities. The sweetest memories of many a man's life are those of his college days, when his mind, body and heart were developed harmoniously.

Keep the little church school, and don't give it too much money. Funds are necessary for the support of the institutions, but they are better, if they cost us all a little sacrifice. It is not well when the name of a man who contributed a large sum of his surplus earnings to the school is given more prominence before the students than the names of the scholars, whose lives and works contributed to the real wealth of the world.

THE FLAG.

Citizens should contribute to the fund the school trustees propose to raise for the purchase of flags for the school houses. Patriotism is one of the important things to be taught to the children. They should learn that these schools and public institutions are made possible for them only because this great country is free; and that for all that is best and greatest, for the lessons this nation has taught the world, for the blessings it has conferred upon humanity, that flag stands. Probably the school children themselves would wish to contribute a few cents apiece toward the purchase of the flags. Then the flags would be their own. Teach the children to honor the flag; to hold it sacred and by no act or word bring discredit on the people whose banner it is.

SERGEANT ORDERS FLAGS TO BE TAKEN DOWN.

Under the senate bill that the United States flag must not be used for an advertisement or any advertisement printed on it, two flags were ordered down from in front of the show-shining parlor of Victor Constable, a Greek, by Sergeant C. A. Blake, of the local recruiting station of the United States army. Constable has had two flags out for several days and printed on them was an advertisement of his work. Sergeant Blake instructed him to take the flags down, and the bewildered Greek complied with the order in a hurry, and explained that he did not know it was a violation of the law.

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON

ILLUSTRATED BY A. WEIL

CHAPTER VI. The Flight of Selgo.

Selgo understood at last that the sleeping eagle was preparing to descend from its aerial with mercilessly bared talons. In his flight to the city he counted every moment of value, and through his mind went but one thought: How to get news to Japan in time to avert disaster. What he had witnessed was so convincing that he was amazed at the devilish leniency of the Americans, who had led the whole world to believe them defenseless when they were in reality only luring other nations on to their doom. He was filled with resentment. The shoe was on the other foot now, and it made a noticeable difference. When he believed the United States powerless to defend itself, it had been only fit and proper that Japan should barry her, conquer if possible, and gain concessions of territory and money indemnity; but with the knowledge that the country was not only in a position to care for itself, but also to conquer an enemy, he viewed things in an entirely different light.

Worst of all, he realized that he was more largely responsible for the outbreak of war than any other man, and aside from the ignominy which must be imposed upon his people was the appreciation of what might happen to his own precious head when resentment changed to act against him. Yesterday he had been smiling, supercilious and confident. Tonight as he ran, he was terrified, ashamed and despairing.

Information had come to him that the blockade was complete, and in so instance was he certain that any of his reports had passed through the lines. He rapidly reviewed the chances, and decided that he must get word to every man at his command to strive to pass a warning through to Canadian territory where it might be carried to Japan. He counted, with Japanese reasoning, on his ability to bribe some one along the border, forgetting that when American patriotism is at full tide money has little weight. He had large funds at command, and in a crisis like this was ready to pour them out lavishly.

His return to the capital was rapid, as he strained his physical powers to their utmost, and he was almost exhausted when he reached the section where his Chinese ally dwelt. With dragging steps he was turning down a street, when a sharp whispered calling of his name from the depths of a hallway arrested him. Stepping inside, he recognized his friend. The instant he was under the cover of darkness he was grasped by the arm and hurried through a doorway and up a flight of stairs. He would have remonstrated at this strange proceeding had not his conductor murmured: "Come faster, and ask nothing! It's your only chance to save your life!"

Through a long corridor where there were no lights, out to a back porch which overhung skeletonlike from the building in which the residents were evidently all asleep, down another flight of rickety stairs, and into a vacant space, presumably a back yard, he followed. Not until they reached this secluded place did he have a chance to ask an explanation, and then, before he could formulate a question, it was volunteered.

"The American secret service men have been after you. They are watching the house inside and out. They've seized your papers and every thing else in the place. I escaped and brought you money with which to go."

"But my men?"
"Arrested as fast as they came; taken quietly away, and now in prison."

"Meredit, too?"
"Yes, he was taken in the street above."

Selgo gasped in astonishment. "But there must be some who got away?"

"No, not even you. You're the only man left. The Americans are a terrible people. They have hoodwinked you until the time was ripe, they reached out and caught you all as a fisherman with his net takes in a school of minnows. Even now they are waiting for you, and you'll have to act quick or they will get you too."

The spy felt suddenly that he had underestimated the enemy completely. An involuntary shudder contracted his muscles when he comprehended that not only had he been watched until the propitious time for his taking, but that he had been deliberately played with, an unconscious mouse beneath the eyes of a vigilant cat. Worst of all, this in itself was confirmation that none of the later reports he had sent out to Japan had reached their destination. Probably every message he had dispatched was now in the hands of the Americans. His only hope of conveying warning to his countrymen and for his own life depended on his escape from the clutches of these men, who could appear ignorant and timid when in reality they were advised and alert. In a burst of impotent rage he shook his fists at the stars. His companion caught his arm. "Listen!" he said. "You have but one chance. You must get away from Washington to-night. I have a friend, a Canton man, who is a gardener in the outskirts. If we can reach him he will take you in his wagon to a railway crossing before the light comes. There you can get aboard a freight train."

"Go as a tramp?"
"Yes, because all other trains will be searched."

Selgo shrugged his shoulders in disgust. He would have uttered a protest in words had not his companion checked him and continued:

"If you are careful you can get to Chicago, where other friends of mine will help you. Then you must try to reach Canada as best you can."

Selgo hesitated a minute before deciding; but it was obvious that no better means was available. Together the two men crept through alleyways and back streets to the outskirts of the city, until they came to the home where lived the truck farmer on whom they placed their hope. He, experienced in the ways of the Americans through long residence in California and standing in dread of the law, was at first loath to undertake the part assigned to him; but the elixir of gold overcame his fears, and in the end Selgo sought sleep in the bottom of a covered wagon while being driven to the place where he was to assume a new role. He felt alone and deserted when the gardener departed, leaving him standing at an intersection of railway tracks waiting impatiently for a freight train on which he was to make his first excursion into trampdom.

It came at last, a heavy snorting locomotive pulling a long trailer of empties. It whistled shrilly for the crossing, watched for a signal from the lonely little tower, and came to a full stop. Selgo, with his heart in his mouth, clambered through the side door of an empty car and was soon traveling westward to the rhythmic clank of wheels on rails. Fatigue at last overcame him and he slowly dropped into a restless sleep in which he was pursued by demons and confronted by unknown terrors. He was aroused by a brakeman, who roughly punched him in the ribs with the toe of his boot and told him to "like out!" He sat up and blinked his eyes, until again ordered to vacate, and then came to his senses sufficiently to make a plea for himself, which was unavailing. The brakeman was obdurate and threatening, until the spy crawled stiffly out.

Got Just Five Cents.
The offices of Drs. M. Steinfeld, O. R. Kidd and C. E. Kidd, on Broadway, were entered Tuesday night and the thief secured one 5 cent piece out of Dr. Steinfeld's money drawer. The thief entered the offices by squeezing himself through a small transom over the rear door. The lock on the cash drawer in which Dr. Steinfeld keeps his money in the day time was broken but the thief received only 5 cents for his trouble. A lot of stamps were in the drawer, but they were not touched. Nothing is missing but the nickel.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Discriminateness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.—R. W. Walker Co., Special Agents.

BIG MEETING

HELD BY OFFICIALS OF THE ASSOCIATION.

Matter of Systematizing the Business Throughout the District Is Taken Up.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 28.—Salesmen and other officials of the Planters' Protective association from all over the dark tobacco district met here for the purpose of discussing ways and means of better systematizing the business of the organization. The meeting was held in this city on account of its accessibility to all sections of the district. Many of the committeemen did not arrive until late in the afternoon or at night. Some of them left over the L. & N. at midnight while others waited until morning.

Those present at the meeting were: General Manager Felix G. Ewing, Auditor John D. Seales, Joel B. Fort, assistant general manager; W. E. Frazier, Chairman E. E. Wash, of Trigg county; W. W. Radford, of Christian county; Alva Miller, of Marshall county, and the following salesmen: Counts & Moore, of Springfield, Tenn.; McMurray & Killbrow, of Clarksville; West Humphreys, of Mayfield; A. N. Veal, of Paducah; C. A. Hood, of Murray; C. E. Miller, of Cadiz; S. G. Buckner, of Hopkinsville; John G. Orr, of Princeton; E. W. Gunn, of Russellville; C. F. Jarrett, formerly salesman at this place, and W. B. Blakemore, of Martin, Tenn., were also present.

It had been reported that the meeting was to be held for the purpose of reducing prices, but this was denied by Mr. Ewing. Mr. Ewing stated that the purpose of the meeting was to get the various salesmen together and discuss methods of selling and to adopt some uniform plan for the conduct of the business.

Mr. Ewing stated further that reports from all over the dark tobacco district showed that the association was in a very flourishing condition. Sales were being made rapidly at all markets and no difficulty was being experienced in securing the prices which had been placed upon the tobacco by the graders. Sales this year are away ahead of those of last year and all indications point to a bright future.

Louisville Markets.

Louisville, May 28.—Ninth-street warehouse sold 1 hhd. burley at $15.25, and 2 hhds. dark at $6.50 to $10.50.

Dark warehouse sold 41 hhds. dark at $6.30 to $11.75.

Bickett warehouse sold 28 hhds. burley at $9 to $14.75, and 10 hhds. dark at $6.50 to $9.80.

Mayfield Sales.

Mayfield, Ky., May 28.—The following sale of association tobacco were made by Salesman Humphreys, assisted by Inspector J. D. Watson and Warehouseman J. T. Albritton, and the prices are quite flattering. Thirty-three hogsheds were sold to W. B. Kennedy as follows: Seven hogsheds at $10; 16 hogsheds at $10.50; 9 hogsheds at $11; 1 hogshed at $11.50. Oscar Hank bought six hogsheds for the American Snuff company, for which he paid $7 for five hogsheds and $5 for one hogshed. E. J. O'Brien bought 15 hogsheds as follows: Seven hogsheds at $10; 3 hogsheds at $10.50; 1 hogshed at $11; 4 hogsheds at $8.

Clarksville Sales.

Clarksville, Tenn., May 28.—The rates of tobacco since Monday morning amount to 217 hogsheds. This is only two days' sale and the buyers are busy taking the different types at the schedule prices. Several of the largest buyers, representing foreign markets, are on hand and making liberal purchases. Everybody at the salesroom is kept busy and this hot weather is pulling the sweat from our inspectors, but they just sweat and endure it.

Planting.

The reports from the various sections show that the greater part of the crop has been planted. There are many complaints in some localities of the cut worms destroying the plants, but parts green is being reported and is proving a very effective remedy. Corn planting is still progressing.

Springfield Tobacco Market.

Springfield, Tenn., May 28.—Past week has marked another very busy period on the Springfield tobacco market. The sales reached a total of 494 hogsheds at prices ranging from 7 to 16 cents. This is the heaviest week's sales since the season opened.

Sale of Pooled Tobacco.

Owensboro, Ky., May 28.—Mr. R. Lee, secretary of the National Tobacco Growers' association, reports the closing of a deal with R. E. Masie, for the American Tobacco company, for 570 hogsheds of the 1906 pool of the Ohio and Breckinridge counties tobacco. The price is not made public. It is reported that there remains less unsold 1906 crop on the market at this time than there was of that 1905 crop a year ago, notwithstanding all of the 1907 crop is on the market.

POWERFUL TEST

Turret of Monitor Florida

Peppered Steel.

Great Strength Shown to Be Mashed in American Turret Construction.

—Hampton Roads Series.

VICTORY FOR CONSTRUCTORS.

Old Point Comfort, Va., May 28.—The highest naval gun, the heaviest projectile and highest explosive known, combined with close range and deadly aim, were allowed to work full havoc on the turret plate of the monitor Florida. The result is declared to be a victory for turret construction and this notwithstanding the eleven-inch hardened steel plate was buckled, broken, the seams of the turret apron and rivets and screws loosened and twisted.

It was five minutes after the terrible impact that the duly balanced mechanism of the turret was being worked with perfect ease, and the 12-inch gun on the left side was trained at will. Inside the turret where stand the gunner and gun crew the havoc was much less apparent than from the outside. Examination showed that of the many delicately adjusted instruments for fire control, sighting and operating the turret, few if any were out of working order.

Then followed a futile attempt to destroy the newly designed fighting mast on the stern of the Florida. After five shots had gone through it the mast stood firm.

"Forty shots would not bring it down and no enemy would waste ammunition and time shooting at it," was the expert comment.

It was predicted that all the new ships will be equipped with masts of this design. The story of the "shoot ing up" of the Florida by the Arkansas, however, is not continued in this statement of the results. It was no event in which the keen edge of expectations was not dulled by realization.

Four admirals and brigadier generals together with their families, scurried under the protected decks and then hopped out again as quickly to look for the damage done by the boom and roar they had felt and heard. The scene of a real war demonstration was Hampton Roads.

Held Up by Band of Night Riders

The Courier-Journal says: "Held up by a band of 'night riders' while traveling from Lexington to Louisville to attend the races was the experience passed through Monday night by a number of well-known young men of Lexington. According to statements made by the quarter last night, it will be the last for them in the future. The party, composed of Grover Hughes, the well-known young trainer, and his brother Sidney Hughes, and E. W. McLeod and the chauffeur, started from Lexington Monday afternoon, intending to take things easy and reach Louisville some time before midnight. Shortly before reaching Shelbyville, the automobile entered a covered bridge over a creek. When about half way through the bridge a command to halt was heard, and at the same time four guns were pointed at the occupants of the machine. "When the car was brought to a standstill, all four of the occupants shaking in their shoes, the leader of the gang asked them their business and demanded to know if they were members of the militia on the lookout for night riders. Upon being answered in the negative, a search of the car for weapons was made. Failing to find any shooting irons of any description, the leader of the gang authorized those holding the occupants of the car at bay to let them proceed on their way. "The driver of the car did not need a second invitation, and with the lowering of the guns in the hands of the night riders the machine shot through the bridge at a rapid pace and was soon on its way to Louisville. Following the harrowing experience, the Lexington men believed a rest at French Lick Springs would be beneficial to their nerves, and they started for that resort last night."

LEFT HOME

BECAUSE HE HAD TO GO TO SCHOOL AGAINST WILL.

Parents of Carlton H. Greene, of Detroit, Offer $300 Reward for Information.

A reward of $300 is offered to any one who can give any information as to where Carlton H. Greene can be found. Carlton H. Greene is the 18-year-old son of E. C. Greene, 97 Fairview avenue, Detroit, Mich. The young man left his home October 14 last year and started to school, but nothing has ever been heard from him since. His leaving home was probably due to the fact that he had to go to school against his own will.

He is described as being 18 years of age, height 5 feet 9 inches, weight about 115 pounds, sandy hair, light complexion, blue eyes, slightly dimpled chin and has a slight muscular twitch of the eyes and face. He is of slender build, is active, studious, of good habits, quiet and retiring in manner. When he left home he wore a dark blue serge suit and light golf cap. May have taken an assumed name.

TWO BRANCHES.

"The sales of books and tracts were $287,201, and the periodicals $433,782. The net profits of the year were $120,993. The capital is now $297,201. The aggregate publications for the year were 59,136,406."

Church Colleges. "The board has made an unceasing effort that only Christian men and women should occupy the chairs of the colleges. It has insisted that this was demanded by the very nature of the Christian college. As a small college, its first characteristic was likely to be the personal influence exerted over the students by each professor. The results have been very gratifying. Careful statistics show a total of 943 faculty members, with 902 of those, or almost 96 per cent, members in good standing of evangelical churches. Most of those, moreover, who are not professing Christians, are those who are really connected with the institutions as teachers in the non-scholastic departments.

Within the past year some of the institutions that have long been connected officially with the church have felt that it was wise for them, from the point of view of material provision, to change the existing relations and to secure such modifications of their character as would give them self-perpetuating boards of trustees, and thus remove from them official connection with the church. The board believes that this is a thoroughly mistaken policy, and that it will have results in the life of the institutions that those who had secured the changes have been farthest from intending.

"The board urges upon the colleges of the church to remain in an official relation with it. It has a very strong hope that the time will come when this official relation will not preclude the college from any material advantage; but, whether this plan comes or not, it is believed that the spiritual results of a church connection are too great to be sacrificed for any material advantage.

"The board has adopted a policy which it believes will meet the full approval of the church. Hereafter it will only co-operate with institutions that are able to give some real guarantee of the continued Christianity of their educational work.

"The results of the financial efforts have been most encouraging, but there is still very much land to be possessed.

"Seventeen colleges have lost a little in the number of preparatory students, but twenty-six have gained more than eighteen per cent over last year. Ten colleges report a slight loss of college students, but forty institutions have gained eighteen per cent.

Foreign Missions. "The year has been a successful one. Sixty-four new missionaries were sent out. The receipts from all sources were $1,311,231.51—the largest amount ever received in a single year. Owing to the extra demands, however, on the foreign field, the year closed with a deficit of $105,000.

"The board has 28 missions located in Africa, China, India, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Persia, Philippine Islands, Siam, Laos, Brazil, Chile, Columbia, Guatemala, Syria and among the Chinese, Japanese, and Koreans in the United States. It has 118 principal stations, 2,000 out-stations, 363 missionaries, over 3,000 native workers, 1,171 schools from the primary to the university, 7 printing presses which last year printed 139,261,402 pages. About 129 hospitals and dispensaries, which treated more than 100,000 patients last year.

"There are 85,407 communicants, more than 10,000 being added during the year. The contribution of the field from native sources in gold, amounted to $296,655.87—the largest sum ever received from the native Christians in the more than 70 years' history of the board.

"The significant events of the year are found in the rapid development of self-support. This is shown by the large offerings of the native churches. In some missions, such as the Laos mission, and the Korean, the native churches are almost entirely self-supporting. In other missions, as in Africa, nearly all the churches are self-supporting.

"The evangelistic spirit of the native church. In Korea this is remarkable. The addition to the native church on confession of faith were 2,421. This does not take into account the large number of catechisms, or those who have renounced their heathenism and professed Christ, and are receiving instruction preparatory to being received into the church. This large membership is due almost wholly to the zeal, earnestness and favor of the native Christians. In the Phil-pine islands, nearly 2,100 adults have been received into the Presbyterian churches. The growth is remarkable. After eight and a half years of service there are fifty Presbyterian churches, one hundred congregations, between two and three hundred native helpers and teachers, and some 8,000 communicants. The native church in the Philippines has shown zeal and earnestness and evangelistic fervor.

"There has been an increased interest in the home land. In February a great Men's convention was held at which some 1,600 registered delegates each paying his own way, were present, and deliberated for three days on the best method of arousing interest in foreign missions among the men of the church. The sale of mission study text-books, the demands for mission literature, the commendation of missions by such men as Hon. James Bryce, Hon. William Taft, Hon. Wm. J. Bryan and Mr. Wm. Taft have given an impetus to foreign missions such as it has never had before. It has ceased to be fashionable to sneer at foreign missions."

Kentucky Synod Wrong. Greensboro, N. C., May 28.—At the session of the Southern Presbyterian general assembly the hearing of the case of Daniel H. Young against the synod of Kentucky in the matter of the Central University at Danville, Ky., occupied almost the entire morning.

The investigation developed a rather peculiar situation. The synod at Kentucky formed an alliance with the Northern church for joint control of Central University at Danville, Ky., and under a charter secured from the legislature of Kentucky formed a self-perpetuating board of trustees and under the arrangement obtained a donation from the Carnegie fund, such donations being made to colleges of non-sectarian character.

A number of speakers took the position that to set squarely with reference to the Carnegie fund would place the college beyond the control of the Presbyterian church. Some objected to secularizing the school for the sake of Carnegie money. Others contended that the arrangement amounted to diverting funds donated by members of the church with the understanding that the college would remain a southern Presbyterian educational institution.

Some thought the synod of Kentucky legally right, but morally wrong while others commended the action of the synod as being the best arrangement that could have been made. At 6:15 o'clock the roll call was begun on the motion to sustain the complaint. The result was 92 in favor of sustaining in whole, 19 in favor of sustaining in part, 45 against sustaining.

BLOOD POISON TREACHEROUS-DANGEROUS

Contagious Blood Poison is the most treacherous of all diseases. It has its victims in its power almost before they realize its presence; because its first symptom, which is usually a little sore or pimple, is so insignificant that it does not cause alarm, or even excite suspicion. But notwithstanding the outward symptoms are not manifested in the beginning, this insidious poison is at work on the blood, and in a short time the patients find themselves diseased from head to foot.

The mouth and throat ulcerate, the hair begins to come out, a rash breaks out on the body, copper-colored spots, and even sores and ulcers appear on the flesh. Unless the poison is driven from the blood, it affects the bones, and literally eats out the life of the sufferer.

There is scarcely any limit to the evil powers of Contagious Blood Poison. It is often transmitted to others by a friendly handshake or from the use of the toilet articles of an infected person. And if the virus is allowed to remain in the circulation, its blighting influence will be handed down to offspring to ruin their innocent lives.

Contagious Blood Poison is too dangerous to trifle with. No time should be lost in ridding the blood of this insidious poison; and in no disease is it more important that the proper remedy be used. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time and leave the real cause smoldering in the system, have brought misery and despair to thousands. Faithfully the sufferers took such treatment, and when all outward signs had disappeared left off its use, only to find that the virus had been shut up in the blood, awaiting a favorable opportunity to break out again.

S. S. S. goes down into the circulation, and removes every particle of the poison from the blood, makes this vital fluid pure and healthy, and does not leave the slightest trace of the poison for future outbreaks.

S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs of the forests and fields. It does not contain the least particle of mineral in any form to injure the delicate parts of the system, impair the digestion or corrode and irritate the membranous tissue or lining of the stomach and bowels.

If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison, S. S. S. will cure you, because it will purify your blood, and destroy every vestige of the taint. It will act as the finest of tonics to build up and strengthen your system, assist it in overcoming the effects of the disease, and insure a speedy restoration to perfect health.

We have a Home Treatment book, describing the different stages and symptoms of Contagious Blood Poison, and containing many suggestions that will be helpful to you in curing yourself with S. S. S. We will send this book and any medical advice desired to all who write—no charge for either. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

A Phenomenal Purchase and Sale of MEN'S OUTING SUITS

Now, at the very beginning of the hot weather season, we bought from the well-known makers of high-grade clothing, Walcott, Udell & Co., of New York, all of their broken lots of Outing Suits at less than 50c on the dollar, and we are going to give our customers the benefit of this purchase. Over 300 suits to select from.

$10, $12, $15 Suits Selling in this Sale for $6.48

Prices Never Known or Equaled Anywhere

THESE are not ordinary factory-made suits, but high-grade hand-tailored coat and trousers—single and double breasted—in all wool worsteds and chevrons gray or brown mixtures. The fabrics are thin and airy. This sale is really so extraordinary that no store in Paducah but Weille's could attempt a movement of such magnitude. The condition of purchase (50c on the dollar) were that we take the entire surplus of summer suits of the great manufacturers named above. The masterful selling resources of Weille's enabled us to do so where others could not. Thus we secured for Paducah a good clothes bargain event that will be cited and referred to for years to come. This entire purchase will be on sale tomorrow—Friday, May 29th—and will be displayed on special counters.

G. O. P. PLATFORM

A TENTATIVE DRAFT WILL BE PREPARED IN WASHINGTON.

Roosevelt, Taft and Leading Republicans in Both Houses Will Take Part.

Washington, May 28.—At least a tentative draft of the Republican national platform will be prepared in Washington. Already arrangements are being made for conferences on the subject. The likelihood is that conferences will be held here next week and that by the time the delegates to the convention come they faces toward Chicago, a declaration of principles will have been whipped into shape and tucked away in the inside pockets of the prospective members of the committee on resolutions.

Participating in the platform conferences will be President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and leading Republicans in both branches of congress.
It is expected that Wm. H. Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, who is one of the delegates-at-large from that state, will have a part in the preparation of the platform.

He drew the tariff revision plank of the platform adopted by the Republicans of Ohio at their state convention, and it is anticipated that a somewhat similar declaration respecting the tariff will be adopted at Chicago, particularly if the forces of Secretary
Taft should control the convention.

"I tell you I must have some money!" roared the King of Marlana, who was in sore financial straits.
"Somebody will have to cough up."
"Alas!" sighed the guardian of the treasury, who was formerly court jester, "all our coffers are empty!"—Judge.

"You'll contribute to the campaign fund, of course?"
"Not this year," replied the insurance magnate. "You see, the only money I have at my command now is my own."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Yesterday the telephone bells in The Sun office kept up a constant clatter and clang. Every time they were answered it was the same old story—a question about the contest. Somebody wanted to know how many of the 5 vote coupons could be voted at once, how many votes would be secured by a year's subscription, and a thousand other questions brought up by the intense interest in the Paducah Evening Sun's Great Popularity Contest has aroused among the people of this section of the state.

It was hard to get any of the regular work of the office done. Contestants and their friends wouldn't wait for the ad-writing, editorial work, composing, press-run, and the other regular daily stunts of the shop. They wanted to know about the contest and know about it right now. The man who was least busy had to talk. Of course this was gladly done for The Sun wants everybody within writing and talking distance to know about the splendid array of prizes and the easy conditions of this greatest of contests.

A good time to phone is after supper—or perhaps you call it "dinner"—at that time the contest man is always in the office and is willing and anxious to talk an hour or so about the contest. Tell him your successes or your troubles and they will get no farther than his ears.

There are still a number of people who are active candidates but have not secured the materials for conducting their campaigns according to the easiest method. If they will call at the office or phone for the contest man to call upon them they can start off now and have a hand-icap over those who enter later.

And Still They Come.
The total number of nominations up to six o'clock last night since the beginning of the contest last Saturday had been 117. Of those two have dropped out owing to illness and removal from the city, leaving 115 names in the list which are still "alive," that being the term by which active or prospectively active contestants are known to the office of the papers conducting the contest.

Forty-two people have scores that must be written with four figures and the contest is just half a week old, leaving five and a half weeks before the finish. What the scores of these forty-two will be before the end cannot be imagined. It is impossible to judge from the score of one contest what the results of the next will be. It all depends on the class of candidates who become interested and the popularity of the paper upon which the deal is being conducted.

The candidates in The Sun's contest are all first-class, with the accent on the "first." The mere mention of their names in the best homes in the city and surrounding country will insure them the support they deserve. It will be a great honor indeed to win over the field of racers.

that has been entered. It will be to vote only one of the 500-vote coupons published last Saturday and the 50-vote coupons published Monday, but you may gather up as many of the 500-vote coupons as you like and cash them in to advance your score. But it will hardly pay you, yourself, to bother with those little ballots. Let the children of the neighborhood gather them up for you while you are spending your time on subscriptions.

The contest man has known a number of candidates in the past who have lost big prizes simply because they spent too much time collecting and signing ballots that counted only one each and neglected to get the things that count by the thousand. If you wish to start in the game, get last Saturday's paper and Monday's paper and clip the big coupons. They are good until the last of this week. Not after that.

Then call for the contest man and have him come and tell you all about how to win. His advice is impartial but you will find it of value no matter whether you have been in other contests or not.

Phone for the Contest Man.
There is an individual now connected with The Sun whose business it is to talk to interested parties and tell them all about the contest. That's what he is in Paducah for. That he's the case, don't hesitate to come right down to the office and take as much of his time as you want. He will tell you everything about the contest you want to know, and answer any and all questions, regular contest encyclopedia. His office hours are midnight to midnight. If it is impossible for you to come to The Sun office phone for the contest man and he will come where you are.

One Hundred and Three People have been nominated for the honors and the prizes in The Paducah Evening Sun's Great Popularity Contest, and most of them have given notice that the nomination was made with their full consent and that they were going after the prizes TO WIN.

There is still room for a few more people with determination, for a large percentage of those who have started will find troubles or excuses later that will cause their names to be dropped from the list and great gaping holes left to be filled by later and braver entries.

Determination is the whole story. It is easy for anyone to make a good start in a contest, but the man or woman who says to himself or herself that he or she is going all the way through with the game and will not be stopped by real or imaginary troubles—that person is going to reap the reward of nerve and stick-to-it-iveness.

And in this case the reward is extremely great for those who stay to the finish of the game. Seven hundred dollars for six weeks work—worth the effort, isn't it? At any rate there are nearly one hundred and three people who think it is.

Fourteen people started the subscription game yesterday. You know the same effort that you spend in getting ballots from the paper will put you much farther to the good if you spend it getting your friends to subscribe to The Sun through you. Fourteen people have more than a thousand votes now—and the contest is only three days old. Others have subscription ballots which they have not yet turned in. How many will have entered the contest before tomorrow's publication and how many will write their scores in four figures can only be conjectured.

As Many as You Like.
Remember that you can get any number of the five-vote coupons published daily in The Sun now. It is possible
